

The eight parity classes, and the seed picks one

Odd component: the claim flips. Zero: it survives.

and $8D - 2A_4$ picks up $9 - 9 = 0$: the mod-six law survives for the strongest reason of all --- not zero modulo six, but zero.

every matter generator is even in all three coordinates, so no bulk content leaves its cell: the parity class is the base point's alone